

"So, Milt is a talking musky?" says Father.

"Should we make them stop believing in him?" asks Mother.

"It is just a made-up friend," says Father.

"Does it hurt the children, to have a made-up friend?" asks Mother.

"I had a made-up friend when I was small.

They will grow out of it," says Father.